

Successful test in MOSLER Super GT for Mike as preparation for upcoming British GT races

06-16-2011 Rockingham, England

Current British GT point's leader Mike Guasch tested a MOSLER Super GT yesterday at Rockingham Raceway England in preparation of two upcoming rounds of the British GT Championship in Rockingham, England and Spa-Francorchamps, Belgium.

“Due to testing regulations we are not allowed to test within 2 weeks ahead of a British GT event at the tracks we race on” Mike explained, “but with Matt and I currently leading the Championship, I wanted to make sure I prepare myself as well as I can for each track, so I decided to do the test in the Mosler here in Rockingham and will race the car in one upcoming round of the Dutch SuperCar Series in 2 weeks at Spa-Francorchamps. Since it is a different racing series I am allowed to do that and it should give me plenty of track time when we race the Audi in British GT later in this month”, Mike continued. “The car was fantastic to drive. It has over 600 horsepower and much more downforce than the Audi. It is more like a prototype than a GT car.”

Under cloudy skies there was a threat of rain all day during the test but only a couple of sprinkles did not disturb the testing.

“We had some minor electrical problems which costs us quite a bit of track time but overall I was able to do around 50 laps, so it was a good test and I think I am ready to race the car in Spa-Francorchamps”, so Mike explained.

Now Mike is heading to Brands Hatch for the third venue of the British GT Championship with United Autosports this weekend June 18th -19th.
